

'Introduction to researching your Scottish Family History'

Venue	Scotland's People Centre 2 Princes Street Edinburgh
9.20am	A Scottish Ancestral Trail representative will meet you in the foyer of New Register House and take you to the presentation room
Morning	Iain Ferguson, Manager of The Scotland's People Centre will officially welcome you to the building Jo Graham from Our Scots (your consultant genealogist for the day) will lead you on your ancestral hunt, covering: <ul style="list-style-type: none">▪ The information you can find in Scottish birth, death and marriage records▪ How to record the information you discover▪ Methods of researching▪ Useful websites and other resources available▪ Information on emigration▪ Tips and hints for finding information▪ Use of the computerised Scotland's People website Comfort & Coffee Break Tour of the 'Scotland's People Centre' led by Iain Ferguson
12.05pm	Light lunch
Afternoon	You will spend the afternoon in The Adam Dome to start your ancestral search on the computers. Jo Graham, your genealogist will be on hand all afternoon to assist you with your search and queries
4.00pm	Start to close down your computer system
4.30pm	Depart The Scotland's People Centre

NOTES: Please bring with you any information you have on your ancestors. e.g. any names and the dates and places of their important life events - births, marriages and deaths.

It will save you valuable time and will help with the end of the morning session when you will be asked to enter any known data into your 'Genealogical Chart'.